On page 1, between lines 7 and 8, insert the following:

"SUBPART F-1. WITHHOLDING INCOME TAX ON OIL AND GAS PROCEEDS

§120.11. Withholding income tax on oil and gas proceeds

A. As used in this Section, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(2) "Oil and gas" means crude oil, natural gas, liquid hydrocarbons, or any combination thereof, or carbon dioxide.

(3)(a) "Oil and gas proceeds" means any amount derived from oil and gas production from any well located in Louisiana and payable as a mineral lease, royalty interest, oil payment, overriding royalty interest, production payment interest, working interest, or any other obligation expressed as a right to a specified interest in the cash proceeds received from the sale of oil and gas production or in the cash value of that production.

(b) "Oil and gas proceeds" excludes "net profits interest" and other types of interest the extent of which cannot be determined with reference to a specified share of the oil and gas production and excludes any amounts deducted by the remitter from payments to interest owners or paid by interest owners to the remitter that are for expenses related to the production from the well or cessation of production from the well for which the interest owner is liable.

(4) In addition to the definition provided by R.S. 47:2(2), "person" also means a club, cooperative association, joint venture, receiver, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, or gas, water or electric utility owned or operated by a parish or municipality and, to the extent permitted by law, a federal, state, or other governmental unit or subdivision, or an agency, a department, or an instrumentality thereof.

(5) "Remittee" means a person that is entitled to payment of oil and gas proceeds by a remitter.

(6) "Remitter" means a person that pays oil and gas proceeds to any remittee.

B. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, there shall be withholding from payments of oil and gas proceeds as provided for in this Section.

C.(1) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, beginning January 1, 2014, every remitter making payment of oil and gas proceeds shall deduct and withhold from such proceeds a tax in the amount of four percent.

(2) If a remitter receives oil and gas proceeds from which an amount has been deducted and withheld pursuant to this Section, the remitter may take credit for that amount in determining the amount the remitter must withhold and deduct pursuant to this Section.

D.(1) Income on which any tax is required to be withheld by a remitter pursuant to this Section shall be included in the income tax return of the taxpayer, but the amount of tax deducted or withheld during any calendar year shall be allowed as a credit to such taxpayer against his income tax liability for his taxable year.

(2) To the extent that such credit, together with other credits allowed by law, is less than the amount of the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable year, the amount of such underpayment shall be paid on or before the date prescribed by law for filing of income tax returns for such taxable year and shall be delinquent and past due after such date.

(3) To the extent that the credit, together with other credits allowed by law, is in excess of the taxpayer's income tax liability for the taxable period the overpayment shall be refunded in the manner provided by law.

E.(1)(a) A remitter shall be liable for the payment to the secretary of the amounts required to be withheld pursuant to this Section unless the remitter's failure to deduct and withhold the required amounts is due to reasonable cause.

(b) A remitter which has withheld and paid such amounts to the secretary shall not otherwise be liable to any person for the amounts of any such payments.

(c) Any amounts withheld in accordance with the provisions of this Section shall be deemed to be held in trust for the secretary.

(2) Upon failure of a remitter to pay as provided for in this Section any amounts withheld or required to be withheld, the remitter shall become personally liable for such amounts with the interest, penalties, and attorney fees payable as provided generally in the Subtitle, and the amount thereof may be determined, computed, and collected by any method generally provided for in this Subtitle.

(3) If the remitter in violation of the provisions of this Section fails to deduct and withhold the tax under this Section, and thereafter the tax against which such amount may be credited is paid, the amount so required to be deducted and withheld shall not be collected from the remitter, but this Paragraph shall in no case relieve the remitter from liability for any penalties or other additions to the amount which would have been otherwise applicable because of such failure to deduct and withhold.

F. The obligation to deduct and withhold from payment of oil and gas proceeds shall not apply to payments that are made to the following entities:

(1) A corporation whose principal place of business is in Louisiana, or an individual who is a resident of Louisiana.

(2) Remittees with a Louisiana address as shown on internal revenue service form 1099-Misc, or a successor form, or on a pro forma 1099-Misc, or a successor form, for those entities that do not receive an internal revenue service form 1099-Misc.

(3) The United States, this state or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision of either.

(4) Any federally recognized Indian nation, tribe, or pueblo, or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision thereof.

(5) Organizations that have been granted exemption from federal income tax by the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue as organizations described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. However, the obligation to deduct and withhold from payments of oil and gas proceeds to organizations identified in this Paragraph applies if such income constitutes unrelated business income.

G.(1) Every remitter required to deduct and withhold any tax pursuant to this Section shall make a calendar quarterly return to the secretary on a form prescribed by him.

(2) Date for filing quarterly returns. The due date for filing the quarterly returns required shall be the last day of the month following the close of the calendar quarterly reporting period.

(3) Every remitter required to deduct and withhold any tax pursuant to this Section and who so deducts and withholds shall pay the tax due on the return as prescribed by the secretary. The tax paid shall in no event be less than the amount actually withheld.

H.(1)(a) Every remitter shall also be required to file an annual return on a form prescribed by the secretary. The annual return shall consist of a reconciliation of all previously filed quarterly returns for the calendar year and copies of the receipts required to be furnished pursuant to this Section for that reporting period.

(b) The secretary may grant a reasonable extension of time, not exceeding thirty days, for filing the annual return.

(c) The reporting requirements may be waived by the secretary for a remitter if hardship is shown by the remitter in a request for waiver.

(2) Date for filing annual returns. On or before the first business day following February twenty-seventh of each year for the preceding calendar year, a remitter shall file an annual return with the secretary.

I.(1) A late penalty shall be imposed for delinquent submission of, or failure to submit quarterly returns and annual returns.

(2) The penalty shall be five dollars for each quarterly return and annual return required to be furnished under this Section. The total penalty imposed pursuant to this Paragraph shall not exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars for each annual period. This penalty shall be an obligation to be collected and accounted for in the same manner as if it were part of the tax due and can be enforced either in a separate action or in the same action for the collection of the tax.

(3) If the failure to timely submit the annual return is attributable, not to the negligence of the remitter, but to other causes set forth in written form and considered reasonable by the secretary, the secretary may remit or waive payments of the whole or any part of the specific penalty provided for such failure. In any case where the penalty exceeds five thousand dollars, it may be waived by the secretary only after approval by the Board of Tax Appeals.

J. If the secretary in any case believes that the collection of the tax required to be withheld under this Section is in jeopardy for any reason, he may require the remitter to make a return and pay the required tax at any time.

K. Use of prescribed forms. The secretary shall prescribe the forms to be used in compliance with the provisions of this Section. The secretary shall also promulgate rules and regulations in the manner provided for in the Administrative Procedure Act to prescribe the forms and any alternative technological, mathematical, or date-driven methods for filing, signing, and submitting any return, report, statement, or other document required under this Section. The secretary may also prescribe the types of media and record layout to be used in the submission of the returns and receipt.
